LINPRINT IS EXPANDING NEEDS MORE CAPITAL

While other business men have While other business men have been grumbling about poor busi-ness, Linprint has been stepping right along toward a bigger and better business. Our business through the past three months has been excellent, perhaps the greatest falling off has been noticed in volume of advertis-ing in the paper. but the reason scattest falling off has been noticed in volume of advertising in the paper, but the reason for this is readily explained ing in the paper, but the reason for this is readily explained by the attitude of many stamp dealers who want to quit advertising the minute things begin to look bad for them, when as a matter of fact that is one time when they should give more close attention to their advertising. For our part, our business in other lines has shown a steady increase due wholly to our efforts to build it up rather than to worry about what the future is going to bring. than to worry about wh future is going to bring.

Right now we are doing some remodeling which will add about 600 square feet of floor space to our plant. This work consists of tearing out an automobile of tearing out an automobile ramp at the rear corner of the building and closing it up and putting in new flooring and changing a stairway to the base-ment of the building. At a later-date we hope to set a new press in this area.

Then we are adding to our space for our mail order de-partment which has to do with stock and the mailing out of stock and the mailing out of albums and supplies. An ad-ditional loft is being built which will give us much added floor

At the same time we having made three large tables for our bindery and mailing

New equipment is also to be set in within a week or so. We are adding an automatic Dexter feeder to our cylinder press on which the paper is printed. This will speed up production on this press. We are putting in a new paper drill for punching holes, etc.

In addition to the above equipment and work which is under way, we are looking for-ward toward the addition of a ward toward the addition of the new folding machine, a new saw trimmer machine and a mitering machine. After that we hope to machine. After that we hope to get to the point where we can add a gang stitcher and last but most costly of all a num-ber 2 Kelley press for use on paper.

This is a very extensive program and will mean the expenditure of close to $10,000 when completed. We have hopes of seeing this accomplished within the next couple years.

While we did offer stock in the Corporation, but a very small amount has ever been sold. Such as has been sold thas been in small lots of mostly one to four or five shares and the money obtained in this manner has not been of great help in re-equipping our plant. What we need is to dispose of a block of stock of about $5000 in one lump, then we would be able to add all of the equipment we need at one time. Such a sale of stock would put us in excellent shape to step out and go ahead as we have been planning and we do not know of any invesment that a man with capital could make that we believe would be any more safe than an investment in Linprint stock.

Ten years ago this business was but a small commercial in the next couple years.

While we did offer stock in Ten years ago this business was but a small commercial plant, employing five to seven people and doing an annual business of around $20,000 to $22,000 per year. Today we employ twice as many people and our volume of business is almost double what it was ten vears ago.

Our preferred stock is cumulative and pays 6%. Even with general conditions as they have been through the past sev-eral years, Linprint has made steady progress and we feel certain that an investor who wants a safe investment could find an investment in Linprint stock worthwhile.

For the past ten years Linprint has been in such a position that our constant growth has ab-sorbed all of our income in order sorbed all of our income in order to keep abreast of that growth, yet at the same time, we have demands for many items which we are unable to put on the market for lack of proper financing and we have plans for other activities through our publication that when put into effect will create a sensation among will create a sensation among the stamp collectors of the country.

We should be very glad to

we should be very glad to correspond with any investor who would care to consider an in-vestment which we believe he would find a desirable one.

YOUR DOLLAR WILL HELP JOIN LINN'S 10,000 CLUB NOW

To the 20,000 readers of this publication we know that many of you can not afford a heavy investment in stocks of any kind, yet we do know that there are few of you who could not afford to renew your subscription now. to renew your subscription now, for a full five years at the cost of a single dollar. Nearly 3000 of a single dollar. Nearly 3000 collectors have done this in the past three months. This money has been put to good use in adding new equipment to our plant with a view to improving Linn's Weekly Stamp News. Our eventual aim is a paper with 16 pages and a two color cover, the same to be wire stitched e same to be wire stitched d well illustrated each week. When that is accomplished we will show you a paper second to none, regardless of size for it's not size that makes a publicanot size that makes a publica-tion worth while or desirable to the reader. Among our other plans is one which when launch-ed will be acclaimed by collec-tors throughout the country as the best thing that has been offered them in years.

These things all cost money and it requires time and patience to accomplish all this.

We can get much nearer this to accomplish all this.

We can get much nearer this goal if we can encourage at least 5000 of our readers to take a five years' subscription during the next month or two. We know that many of you have already made your five year renewal and to these we would suggest that you tell your friend collectors about the wonderful offer of five years for one dollar and by getting these new collectors to subscribe, help us get another five thousand subscribers at one dollar each as quickly as possible. If this can be accomplished this spring and summer, by next fall we can put in all of the new machinery and equipment we are planning for and launch our new ideas immediately thereafter. Let everyone do their bit. Out of 20,000 readers, one in every four should she able to help nut these plans readers, one in every four should be able to help put these plans over at once. we will ignore the stamped envelope stamps as few collectors include them in their foreign collections, it being generally agreed that its difficult to determine just where the stamp on some envelopes starts and stops. This article will limit itself to the adhesives.

The largest postage stamps from several viewpoints are the Chinese Express Letter stamps used from 1905 to 1916, unique in postal history in more ways than one with their peculiar form and manner of use. They might easily be the origin of that old saying about the heathen Chinese. In the early 1900s the Chinese Post Office suffered from the competition of private posts, these companies cutting considerably in the Imperial revenues by their speedier service, their runners picking up mail and delivering it much quicker than the government's service.

In 1905 the government established an Express Letter service similar to our 21/2 inches high, being separated into four parts by roulette or perforation. The size varied as the stamps were printed in sheets of five, the cutting into books of singles causing some variation. The Republic issues (1912-1916) were a little larger and even more cumbersome in operation, measuring some 21/2 inches by 93/4 inches, being divided into five portions of which two bore a design featuring a wild goose. All sections of the stamps were numbered, the five portions being used for these purposes: first porpresent day Special Delivery with the tion at left end remained as stub in the letter, though somewhat differently than was returned to office of mailing as proof of delivery, and the third is believed to have been given to the sender as a sort of return receipt on payment of a fee of five cents, otherwise being kept at office of delivery for their records. This third portion had a form printed on the back with space to fill in time of receipt and for addressee signature. The chief difference between the Empire and Republic issues is that the former had no portion which remained on the letter when delivered.

Unused entire copies of these stamps have about the same status as unused postage due stamps of the United States, since it was forbidden to sell the stamps to anyone. Unquestionably the Express Letter stamps are postage stamps, the debatable point being just which portions or if all, should be collected. Since the sender when paying the ten cents, paid for the entire stamp, and as all the form was used to speed the SPENCER ANDERSON

DISCOUNT GORDON H. DAVISON NEW HAMP the accepted manner of postage stamp, the writer feels that the whole stamp is collectible. No other stamps were required on Express Letters unless the letter was overweight, they then paying that extra charge only. After 1916 these stamps became merely forms on a par with the receipts given in our country for registered letters, the postage paid being affixed to the letter in regular postage stamps. Though Chinese postal officials have stated they did not consider the Express Letter forms as stamps, they did say they used them as such and anything used as a postage stamp would seem to be one to our way of thinking.

Next largest in size among postal emissions are the Cubiertas of Colombia, termed Insured Letter stamps in Scott's. Cubierta as one of its literal translations means "cover" and with their huge size these stamps certainly did just that. First issued in 1865 they remained a peculiarity of the Colombian postal system until 1905. These are the largest adhesives ever issued since they measure, with slight variations, some 21/2 inches by 5 inches, the entire stamp being affixed to the letter, they being gummed for that purpose. They do not appear to have been issued other than as singles, always imperforate with approximate 1/8 inch margins. There are no indications that they ever paid the actual postage on letters, their purpose being to pay the insurance fee only. The large size was necessary to enable the sender to write in name of addressee, the contents and their value, sender's name, date etc. This broadcasting of information to any who chanced to see the letter proved a blessing to bandits and dishonest postal clerks for it was simple to pick out the valuable letters from mails passing through their hands. A traveler through the country at the turn of the century reported that for this reason the system was not popular, many persons finding their valuables were safer in ordinary mail. At first there were two kinds of these stamps, a 25c inscribed "sin contenido" which was for mail without declaration of value; the other "Con contenido" for mail on which the value was declared. The first was discontinued shortly afterward as it conflicted with the Registration service. In 1888 a set rarging in denominations from 5 centavos to 1 peso was put into use and though almost no information was given

The largest postage stamps ever issued, paying postage and used without any ifs or buts in their entirety are the United States 1865 issue of Newspaper and Periodical stamps. Just a fraction over by 33/4 inches vertical rectangles, printed in sheets of 40 in three denominations, 5c, 10c and 25c, all perforated. These were brought into use by an attempt of the government to compete with the private express companies and others who handled much of the newspaper mail for publishers. These agencies accepted the bundles at railway stations and delivered them to news vendors at such points, thus speeding considerably the distribution of the papers and avoiding the delays if the bundles had to be taken to a post office at each point. These are also the only U. S. stamps to indicate on their face "Sec. 38, act of Congress approved March 3, 1863." This act stated in the section referred to: "The Postmaster General may from time to time provide by order the rates and terms upon which route agents may receive and deliver at the mail car or steamer, packages of newspapers and periodicals delivered to them for that purpose by the publishers, or any news agents in charge thereof, and not received from nor designed for delivery at any post office." First issued October 1, 1865, the stamps remained in use until about February 1, 1869, when the post office reverted to cash payments without the use of stamps. Much newspaper and periodical matter is even today delivered in the above manner and even larger quantities by the railroads and express companies outside the mails. The 25c which pictures Lincoln was the first stamp to portray the late president, being issued only five months after his death and months before the issue of the better known 15c of 1866. The 5c and 10c show Washington and Franklin respectively. The cancellation was made in proportion to the size of the stamps and its unsightliness together with the manner of use resulted in used copies being scarcer than unused and most of them being damaged. For cancelling a brush was used to smear ink across the stamp!

Most collectors (and not a few dealers) have vague and conflicting ideas of what is the smallest postage stamp. This is due to the smallest stamps having been issued so long ago by an obscure and hardly popular stamp issuing division.

To the state of Bolivar on the northern coast of the Republic of Colombia goes the honor for issuing the smallest postage stamps, honors which it has held by a wide margin (or should we say smaller?) since 1863. Until 1904 the various Colombian states issued their own stamps for their postal services which operated in connection with the national government's service, the latter being somewhat unreliable due to the continual civil warfare of the first fifty years of the republic. These stamps of

The first issue was a 10 centavos in green and a 1 peso in red, the 10 centavos being changed to red in 1866. Despite the small size, the design is clear containing the wording "E. U. de Colombia-Correos del Estado-Estado de Bolivar" and the value around the coat of arms. Though replaced after ten years by larger stamps they have been seen on covers as late as the 1890s. An unusual feature in connection with their use is that at the time they were used to pay the postage on letters, the huge cubiertas were used to pay the insurance fees-a study in contrasts in stamp size.

Next smallest stamp is the 1/2d Victoria, first issued in 1874 in a rose color, both on white and rose tinted paper. In February, 1901, it was re-issued in a bluish green and a few months later replaced with a new design which differed principally in the addition of the word "Postage" to the design. These small half-penny stamps were made approximately one-half the size of the normal one-penny stamps, resulting in their measuring 7/16 by 3/4 inches.

toria in size is the 1/4c Spanish stamp first issued in 1872. It measures just a little under 5/8 inch square, being just a trifle larger in area than the Victoria. The first issue was in blue, varying considerably in shade. In 1873 the stamp appeared in green with the design changed so that the crown was a mural crown instead of the royal crown of Spain. In 1877 the original 1/4c was re-issued in green though re-engraved and continued in use for the next forty years without change, and is believed to have been available for postage for an even longer period. These were, according to early catalogs, printed and issued in fours, though this appears to have been done as a matter of convenience as the stamps were generally used singly. All were imperforate.

Runner-up in smallest stamps are the 4-4 schilling stamps of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, a former German principality. These were printed so that quarters of the stamp could be so used if desired, but generally they were used as issued, complete in four sections. When perforated, the perforations were around the whole stamp, the quarters having to be cut apart.

The obvious disadvantages of small stamps has accounted for so few very small stamps and most governments have made their stamps as large as was convenient. The writer would be interested in hearing from collectors or dealers having any of the stamps mentioned in this article in sheets or on cover, that further data on them may be assembled, particularly as to their use and postal rates requiring them.

Dayton Annual Meeting

The Dayton Philatelic Society announces their annual exhibition and bourse to be held March 19th and 20th in the Ball Room of the Hotel Van Cleve, Dayton, Ohio. A banquet for members and friends will be held the evening of the 19th. One of the exhibits will be a nearly complete collection of air mail stamps of the world. This club meets the second Monday of each month at the Engineers Club.

New Haven Stamp Asked

The New Haven Philatelic Society has issued a resolution requesting a commemorative stamp for the 300th Anniversary of the founding of the New Haven colony which flourished for a quarter century independent of Connecticut colony. The original settlement was made in April, 1638, so time for an appropriate issue is short.

Soviet Agency "Liquidated"

The Soviet Philatelic Bureau has been closed and there is now a new organization for handling stamps in Russia. This new government monopoly is named the "V/O Mezhdunarodnaja Kniga" and supplies almost all Russian stamps since 1921 in quantities of 10, 100 or 1000 at prices having little relation to face value.

A set has been authorized to commemorate the 25th Anniversary of the proclamation of the "Plan of Guadalupe" by Venustiano Carranza, then Governor of the State of Coahuila on March 26th, 1913. Well, you speculators are in worse than even we had thought! Stamps reports a Czech speculator committing suicide as a result of a poor speculation in the Czech Pressburg miniature sheet. The man lost around $15,000.

A new Alaskan post office is named "SKWENTNA." They must pick Alaskan p. o. names out of alphabet soup.

Many of my customers have asked for time payments. I therefore offer the fol-lowing:

very fine mint blocks 17 fine mint blocks $16 $25.00 down and $20.00 a month. $150.00

BY WAY OF CONTRAST Stamp collectors soon learn not to judge the importance of an event by the number of stamps issued for it. Take the Irish, who for centuries, when not fighting among themselves, have been keeping the Emerald Isle in a gory state in repeated attempts to by sheer force of arms attain complete independence of the English. Last December 29th the country became a republic in fact, peacefully and without the slightest show of opposition either verbal or military from Britain. At last the objective that cost so much life and sorrow was attained! Seemingly here was one event that certainly would be celebrated postally in a great big way with portraits of Irish heroes and historic scenes galore. What a let-down to see two rather ordinary stamps appear picturing a symbolic Eire and the Gaelic preface to the new constitution! No portraits of foolishly brave O'Hallorans, Danny Deevers, etc.-nope just two more stamps which caused no rush at new issue counters. We just can't understand it. Perhaps the reason for these postal understatements of the gaining of independence is that the Irish just can't get any kick out of something attained peacefully. That must be it. for contrast this historic event with the twice as many stamps (in a miniature sheet too) to celebrate that most important event of Roumania's Crown Prince becoming a lieutenant in an army ranking umpteenth in the world's list of military forces. The moral is, never to think anything important because of the size and number of its commemorative stamps.

P.S. The office boy suggests that maybe the Irish were so busy fighting over what kind of stamps should be issued that they only had time to get out the two. It sounds most logical.

-R. R.

NEW This issue we add two new columns to our paper, in line with our policy of printing as much variety in stamp news as possible. One column is in deference to the collectors who like to keep up with the auctions and we propose for their benefit to list all coming auctions, provided, the auctioneers advise us of the coming sale in sufficient time for those reading the notice to procure catalogs. Generally dealers know at least three weeks before their sales the date and contents, and if they will advise us of this as soon as they know it themselves, both the dealer and reader will benefit. Since we may get a swarm of such listings we probably will only run a notice of each auction only once, which should be sufficient.

The other column entitled "U. S. Notes" will as the title implies consist of notes on the stamps of the U. S. and Possessions, past and present. Any items of interest pertaining to these issues will be welcome, plate varieties, questions, odd postmarks (but not of the made-to-order variety) and cancels. Many of you have asked for such items on U. S. and we hope to answer your requirements. We'll appreciate your coperation.—R. R.

One of our readers has submitted a circular mailed him on February 16th by one Lee J. Robinson, 1015 Transportation Bldg., Detroit, Mich., which of-fers "Famous Reprints of British Colonials" at a fraction of the catalog value of genuine originals. Ten different stamps were so offered, including two of Bosnia, five of each, total catalog value of $582.00 for $5.25. On examination of the list it develops that only two of the stamps have been reprinted to the knowledge of catalog authorities, and that six are offered "cancelled." Since too many dealers and collectors confuse, intentionally or unintentionally the word reprint with facsimile (counterfeit) we wrote the party mentioned above for more details on these-if they were really reprints, etc. He has refused to answer our questions and since there is no point in his doing so if the stamps really were reprints and not facsimiles, readers can draw their own conclusions as to just what these "stamps" really are. The stamps referred to are: Mauritius No. 15, Gambia No. 4, No. 11, Fiji No. 16, Ceylon No. 4, Lagos No. 3, Tonga No. 105, Samoa No. 8, Bosnia No. 20 and No. 64, all "cancelled" except the Bosnia, Lagos and Ceylon.

John Tyler

TENTH PRESIDENT - 1841-1845

Born March 29, 1790, at Greenway, Va. Died Richmond, Va., Jan. 18, 1862. Tyler held many political offices during his lifetime, commencing with his elec-tion to the Virginia legislature in 1811, to which he was re-elected four more times in succession. In 1816 he went to Congress, in 1823 he again was a legislator, and in 1825 became Governor of Virginia, to which office he was reelected. Next he was U. S. Senator for two terms. Tyler appears to have had a mind of his own and allowed neither friendship or political influence to alter his opinions. In 1836 he resigned as senator rather than change his vote of censure of Jackson and in 1841 his cabinet resigned because he vetoed the tariff and Bank of United States bills. For these acts his party disowned him. Tyler was the first Vice-President to become President due to death of the incumbent. He retired in 1845 but came out of seclusion to attempt to prevent the Civil War, and failing that joined the Confederate cause whole-heartedly, voting for secession and being a member of the Confederate Provisional Congress. Elected to the Confederate House of Representatives he died before he could take his seat. Tyler has never appeared on United States stamps, probably due to most of his acts being forgotten and overshadowed by more popular figures of his era.

lustration bill recently passed by Congress. On February 17th, regulations as permitted in the bill were issued by the Secretary of the Treasury. These permit the illustration of United States stamps but not actual size of stamp. Illustrations must be three-quarters or one and one-half times the actual size of the stamps themselves.

A point brought out by this bill was heretofore no regulation existed against illustration of cancelled U. S. stamps, a fact not generally known. It is understood that there is no change in regulations regarding illustration of foreign stamps. Note that at any time the Secretary may issue new regula-tions and cancel any previously made, a fact viewed with uneasiness by publish-

Ecuador Constitution Stamps

To the growing number of stamps issued to commemorate the Sesquicentennial of the United States Constitu-tion was added on February 14th seven regular postage and seven airmail stamps from Ecuador. Their appearance postponed repeatedly, the set is well worth the wait. The same size as the popular Honduras, these are almost its equal for beauty. All are in-scribed "Commemorative of the Sesquicentennial of the adoption and promulgation of the Constitution of the United States of America. 1787-1789. 1937-1939." The postage design shows eagle and condor at left and right respectively in ovals; Liberty holding the flag of Ecuador in the foreground against a background of an Andean scene. The airmails have George Washington and the Ecuador coat of arms in large ovals in the upper corners with the central portion of the design showing an eagle holding the flags of the two republics in their natural colors. The denominations are 2c, 5c, 10c, 20c, 50c, The 1 sucre and 2 sucres in each set. Though supposedly issued on Feb. 14th, copies were in dealers' hands in the United States on the 15th.

Zeppelin Flights To Be Resumed

The German Zeppelin operators expect to resume their trans-Atlantic flights in May with the new helium-inflated Zeppelin, now nearly com-pleted. Collectors of Zeppelin covers and stamps can now dust off their al-bums and get ready to take up where things were left off when the Hindenburg was destroyed last year.

E-Gypt Does It Again

Again the Egyptian post office has issued a stamp in all too obviously small quantities. On January 20th the 5 mills stamp commemorating the Wedding of King Farouk was placed on sale at Cairo. Since only 200,000 were printed and the face value was less than three cents, only five were sold to purchasers fortunate enough to get to the stamp windows. The result was a long line to the windows.-Philatelic Trader.

30,000 Penny Blacks Auctioned

In the course of a two day sale the first week of January, the firm of Harmer Rooke & Co. of London sold the American formed Williams collection of over 30,000 Penny Blacks. Average specimens brought 50c to $1.25, while the price of £82/10 (about $412) was realized for a rare plate variety. Completely reconstructed sheets sold for $350 to $450.—Philatelic Trader.

Canal Zone has discontinued the issuing of a 17c stamp, the denomination no longer being necessary. The Bureau of Posts, Balboa Heights, will supply a booklet on Canal Zone stamps to collectors, free on request.

As we understand the foreign situation, the other countries would prefer Herr Hitler to let them issue their stamps in peace.

CHANGE IN NUMBERING

The Feb. BEE lists the changes made in the forthcoming bureau catalog. They all concern the 1½c F. Face, 3c Stuart, and 4c Taft, both coil and sheet stamps. The reason they were not recorded in numerical order is that they were listed as they appeared and they did not appear in that order. The 1½c F. F. and 4c Taft appeared before the 3c Stuart. It was deemed advisable to make this change before the new issue appeared so that there would not be so much changing around all in one issue.

The stamps will be arranged in this order as sheet stamps:

B92 1½c FF B94 3c Stuart B95 4c Taft

and thus as coils:

B142 1½c FF B144 3c Stuart B145 4c Taft

It will be noted that there is but one change in the sheet stamp numbers, that in the 4c Taft, but in the coils the numbers are all changed around. Now the coil numbers end in the same digit as the sheet stamps. This carries out the numbering policy as used on previous issues. The BEE states that there also will be a table showing the corresponding Scott Catalog number for each Bureau Print catalog number.

RAHWAY LOOT

In the Feb. 19th issue of Linns was the item mentioning the robbery of the Rahway office and stating that most of the loot was in the B-121 1c coils. Whoever informed Editor Richardson of the above fact was not entirely accurate. There is NO 121 coil from Rahway, so if the loot was of 1c coils they might have been the old 101s. However, the BEE states they were 140s or 1½c Front Face Harding coils which seems most probable. These are listed. WASH, U-16.

When the change of the city type plate was made last winter from the U-16 plate to the new double line U-17 it was stated that this was due to the fact the old U-16 plate was in bad shape. Some of the last appearing specimens seemed to bear this out. But now we have a new reason that the plate was changed. In the two previous plates used at the capitol city the name Washington was abbreviated this according to reports grieved certain users of precancels and some dignified officials. They felt that the fair name of Washington should not be slighted, they felt this to such an extent that now we have the new plate spelled in full.

NORTH CHICAGO, ILL.

I came upon an 8c current in a type that looked different to me. Checking up in the catalog I found that the current plate had been damaged and the subjects used to replace the damaged ones had thicker bars. This checks up with the item I have. I also noted that North and Chicago are much closer together than in the original plate items. Vertical pairs from this plate showing both types on the one pair would be interesting pieces.

JACKSONVILLE, ILL.

In making lists of the popular U-17 electro Jacksonville, Ill., is always mentioned. To my way of thinking this U-17 from Jacksonville is not of the same family as most of the new U-17s mentioned. What I mean is this, this U-17 of Jacksonville is listed as far back as the 1932 catalog and perhaps is in older catalogs than that also, while all of the other U-17s are products of the past year or two, are outgrowths of the not any too successful U-121 metal handstamp types. I consider the U-17 of Jacksonville the pioneer of all U-17 types.

NOTES.

What's became of the Precancel Star?
—Editor Richardson handed me a 1c current item precancelled McVeytown, Pa., in U-121.—Miss Irma Fife of Jewett, Ohio, showed me current items from SCIO, Ohio, 1c U-122 and Cadiz, 1c and 1½c FF. in U-122.—Geo. C. Class sent me a current 1c from South Gate, Calif., in U-121.—Was called upon recently to pass my opinion on an 8c 1902 item from Erie, Pa., in type 7. I called it a ball when it should have been a strike and was I razzed. A-wahha.

A Diplomatic Postmark

When the time came to settle the question of wording for the postmarks for use at the post offices at the 1939 New York World's Fair, the Post Office Department found itself on the spot and a hot spot, too. The site of the Fair is within the city of Flushing, not New York. But the Fair was New York City's, not Flushing's. Flushing in the person of its congressman demanded the postal marking read "World's Fair Station, Flushing, N. Y." while New York City alarmed at such attempted theft of the glory, demanded they be designated as a branch of the New York City post office. Not all the diplomats are in the State Department as can be noted by specimens of the postmark now in use. It reads "World's Fair Sta. N. Y." neatly sidestepping both Flushing and New York City!

Scott's Lists Miniatures

The Scott Stamp & Coin Co. in their February Journal state their attitude toward miniature sheets. They announce they will continue to list all souvenir sheets under "Tentative Listings" only. They feel that collectors would object to the arbitrary censorship if not listed at all and state further "it seems to us that we can obtain the same ends toward discouraging organized exploitation, by posting souvenir sheets as things issued, but not of sufficient merit to be included in regular catalogue listings.

"Hints for the Beginner" is the title of the third in a series of small pamphlets by Wilfried Myers, 276 Poland Ave., Struthers, O. Copies of the 16 page pamphlet may be obtained at 10c each. A large dealer in New York who deals in United States only, stated if he had 500 copies of the Penny Black he could dispose of them over the counter in a few days. He might have something there, but if everyone starts speculating in this stamp-just remember the Coronations.

Gimbels Stamp Department has on display a unique set of Bicentennial covers, all addressed to President Hoover or members of his cabinet and signed by the person to whom it was sent. Gimbels was the first in New York to make use of the new regulations on illustratnig stamps by portraying a plate strip of three No. 267 United States. This cut, 13/4 inches high and 33/4 inches wide, appeared in an advertisement in a New York newspaper on February 19th.

Rushed by airmail, the new Constitution stamps from Ecuador have made their appearance on Nassau Street. These stamps have more than lived up to their advance notices. They are beautifully colored adhesives, net result being the initial supply didn't last long.

At a special meeting of the Collectors Club in New York six outstanding collections were exhibited, among them the famous Sir Nicholas Waterhouse collection of United States, considered by many to be the finest ever formed by a non-resident of this country.

Hurrah! Another striking miniature sheet appeared the other day in New York. This is the Panama Olympic sheet honoring the Central American Carribean Games. Panama is to be complimented for issuing only one sheet of five values, instead of five sheets each with one value.

A number of dealers are trying to accumulate a stock of Morocco overprints (all except Edward VIII). The interesting factor is that they don't know where to get any. The dealers are cautious as to their reported scarcity. One thing, however, remains certain, by recent treaties Great Britain having relinquished post office rights in the French and Spanish Zones, no more will be issued for those. Hereafter, the only English overprint for Morocco will be those for the international zone of Tangier. These Morocco overprints command a higher price abroad, hence one can understand why there are no large wholesale stocks in this country.

Hong Kong Uses Revenues For Dues

During the week prior to January 20th the British Colony of Kong Kong used 5c revenue stamps in lieu of 5c Postage Due Stamps, due to a shortage of the latter stamp. A. Dorby, Los Angeles, California, reports receiving some 20 covers indicating such provisional use. The provisional use was terminated on Jan. 20th.

Five years ago we featured Linn's Five Year Club. At that time we sold over 7,000 five-year subscriptions at $1.00 each. These subscriptions are now expiring and the former club was so popular that we have now set up Linn's Ten Thousand Club. As the name signifies, the object of this subscription campaign is to sell ten thousand subscriptions at $1.00 each. These subscriptions are offered at one dollar each, a saving of 25c to the subscriber and a saving to us in entering same and in bookkeeping and

We have been surprised at the large number of collectors who are now sending us five-year subscriptions and telling us that they were formerly listed in our Five Year Club which was put into effect five years ago.

It saves money for you and it saves for us to have your five-year subscription paid in advance. Do not delay, do not put it off. This offer is limited to ten thousand readers and subscribers and we are anxious to fill the club list as rapidly as possible.

Send your dollar for your five-year subscription at once and receive printed subscription receipt.

U. S. NOTES

Under this heading we will print notes on U. S. issues, past and present, and our readers are asked to submit interesting varieties of items. Be sure when requesting a reply to send a stamped envelope or card. Plate varieties will be listed but be sure the very minor spots, etc., are constant varieties before sending them in for listing. If a variety is identical on several sheets then it's a safe assertion it's constant. Commonly mistaken for plate varieties are the white spots occurring frequently on the rotary press stamps in the solid colored portions of the stamp, these being ink varieties of no value and differing on every stamp. A plate variety is generally in the color of the stamp, rather than colorless. Any items of interest on U. S. are welcome.

Frequent reference is made to the American flag on the Viking ship on the 5c Norse. A photograph was used of the replica ship sailed to the United States in 1893 for the Columbian Exposition. The following clipping of that time may be of interest:

"On July 12 the Viking arrived from Norway under command of Capt. Magnus Anderson, the builder of the strange boat, which was a reproduction of the ancient Norse war vessel, the Gokstadfind. The feat of sailing the stanch little cockle-shell across the Atlantic after the manner of Lief Erikson's voyage of a thousand years ago, won for Capt. Anderson and his hardy crew well-merited praise. In an address of welcome Mr. I. K. Boyesen, representing the Norwegian citizens of Chicago, said:

"'It is now 1,000 years since the vikings ruled the sea. They touched every known shore with their viking boats. Through courage and daring they carried terror to every land where they touched. They also took with them their love of liberty and left the impress of their institutions. Through their incursions into France and England the institutions of this country have derived many of the characteristics which prevailed among the vikings. The town meeting was carried by the Norsemen into England and by the puritans into this country. It is the same as the Norwegian 'folke mote.' The same physical energy, courage and pluck which the vikings showed applied to art, industry and civilization will produce as great effects in progress and development as in the days of battle-ax and sword in conquering countries and in winning battles. These same qualities have borne fruit in the civilization of the northwest, where the descendants of the vikings have applied their energies to the spade and the plow, the school-house and the home'

Postal Markings reports the best tracing paper they have tried to date is "K. & E. Popular Tracing Paper No. 179T-26" costing 5c a sheet. They state excellent results are obtained if "Crowquill pens" of the better grade—Gillott's—are used with waterproof India ink. rooms papered with them. Now comes This may prove helpful to those of you who go in for making tracings of cancels etc.

The forgotten stamp of the United States is the 10c Orange Special Delivery stamp No. 1892 to complement the Columbian Exposition Commemorative Issue. Because the blue Special Delivery of the time conflicted with the color of the 1c and 4c Columbians the Post Office Dept. issued the stamp in orange during the year the Columbians were current. Though no change in design was made and therefore the stamp bears no indication of commemorating anything, it no doubt has a right to be placed with the Columbian series in our albums.

First appearance of an Indian on our stamps was on the $60 Newspaper stamp of 1875. This is supposedly Minnehaha, the heroine of Longfellow's poem. The Post Office Department's official book issued last year simply describes the figure as an "Indian Maiden."

24c Inverted Center

The 1918 24c airmail stamp with inverted center is a perennial favorite for stories of its origin and a recent issue of Weekly Philatelic Gossip carries an article by the man who bought the only sheet, W. T. Robey. In general the article adds nothing to data available, except that the statistics are given for the first time in a direct manner. The old fallacy that these stamps were printed in sheets of 400 is brought in, though. The three 1918 airmails were printed from plates of 100, but since the sheets were generally trimmed on two sides to make them of a size to match the current stamps, most collectors assumed they were printed in sheets of 400. It is interesting to note that one eastern dealer has been threatening to tell the "true story" of this stamp and we await with interest his version.

A joint House resolution authorized the Post Office Department to issue a series of stamps for the Seventh Poultry Congress and Exposition, we read in the Washington Post. What next?

STILL BUYING

I am at all times a buyer of collections but I sometimes need sheets and wholesale stocks. It is an easy matter to get sheets these days with so many Brokerage houses operating but I like to keep my name before the public. I have before me the Feb. 15th Bulletin of a certain New York Brokerage Concern. I am willing to pay 10% more than their "buy" prices on the following items: #548, 549, 550, 611, 613, 614, 615, 616, 820, 621, 656, 858-678 inc., 575, 576, 577, 612, 1317, and Coronations, both Crown Colonies and Dominions. I won't charge any 3% so you get 13% more if you sell to me. And I can use almost everything else on the list at the bid prices so that will be a saving of 3%. I am not buying S.P.A., or National Park perf. or imperf., as I have all I can carry. There are one or two other items I am loaded on, but I will take 90% of the list at the bid prices and pay, gladly, a 10% premium on the above mentioned numbers. There is no brokerage fee and I will take part sheets and broken lots.
